

Independent and Assisted Living in Woburn, MA

NEW RESIDENT

Eva Boice, Suite 387, joins us from her condominium in Portsmouth, NH. Born in New Jersey, Eva was raised and educated in the greater New York City area. For 35 years, she made her career teaching high school social studies.

Eva especially enjoys spending time near the ocean, which she finds “peaceful with a sense of eternity.” She also delights in singing and dancing and appreciates all genres of music. A woman of many interests, Eva loves to read mystery and historical novels, complete word puzzles, and embark on road trips. A mother to three and grandmother to three more, Eva describes her greatest joy as being a part of her family’s lives.

Being Neighborly

Our next-door neighbor at New Horizons is Warren House, one of five local residences operated by Supportive Living that offer apartment-style living for survivors of traumatic brain injury. Activities Assistant

Our remarkable Ethel Murphy (pictured above), affectionately known as “Gigi” to her 21 great-grandchildren, received a welcome visit from three of the greats. Nine-year-old Willow and six-year-old Poppy made a special trip here to introduce “Gigi” to the latest addition to the family, two-week-old Daisy.

It’s always a treat to meet the grandchildren of New Horizons staff! Both Cindy Lou Benson and Lucille Collins are dedicated and enthusiastic members of our waitstaff team.

Monthly Resident Meeting

Our monthly resident meeting is a well-attended forum where we introduce new residents, provide information about upcoming events, and share important community updates. Many thanks to resident Eunice Wilson, by whose suggestion we will now conclude each meeting with a sing-a-long. Pictured below, our March 3 meeting concluded on a high note with “When Irish Eyes are Smiling.”
